

Spelling mix-ups

they're, their, there

They're putting their coats over there!

↑
They are

↑
The coat belongs to them

↑
Where the coats are placed

They're: a contraction of "they are"
The children are excited they're going camping!

Their: the possessive form of "they"
The children took the toys to their rooms.

There: an adverb that means "in or to a place"
The children were told: "Stay there, don't move!"

For more information please visit phonicbooks.com.